Surface Cars Are Stalled, but Is Hoped to Move Them To-day.

COASTERS ARE JUBILANT

Park Slopes Are Thronged With Thousands, Old and Young. Enjoying Day.

Winter's grip on the city was not re laxed yesterday. No rain or warm wind

As it was Sunday and 6,000,000 big and little New Yorkers could stay at home, the blizzard's pinch was not felt so annoyingly in transportation as in food de-livery. Many households went without milk or fresh bread, because the dairies and bakeries found the going too difficult their delivery service, and, besides, few milk trains that came in from Jersey and up State were hours behind time. Some improvement is promised for o-day, but railroads, car lines, Street ng Department and supply concerns ouldn't guarantee anything approaching ormal service because the weather is likely to be colder and snow removal will therefore be delayed.

Despite all of the vexations hundreds of thousands blessed the snow for the pleasure it gave them and their children. There hasm't been such coasting for years, nor such sleighing, nor so many out of door popportunities for amusement.

Great Day for Coasting.

In Riverside Park there were almost as nany grownups as little folk on sleds ipping down the hills. From Seventy-sound street to Fort Washington Park he coasters were beyond count. All long the drive mothers and fathers were appeared to red and vallow sledd draw.

the coasters were beyond count. All slong the drive mothers and fathers were harnessed to red and yellow sleds, drawing tiny tyrants. Central Park was merry with coasters, and the fun was high in Morningside and other parks.

There was no automobiling in Riverside Driva. Even the motor buses did not attempt to buck the drifts. Motor cars of all kinds, even big limousines, stood abandoned all over town, most of them having been there since Saturday or early yesterday, and there they will stay until the street cleaners clear an outlet for them. In Upper Broadway between $19th and $125th$ streets yesterday people out in cars were forced to foot it to the subway or to the elevated.

Everywhere, in parks and streets, there were jingling sleighbells. Probably there hadn't been such good sleighing snow in ten years. Two years ago there was a heavy fall, but it metted rapidly. Yesterday the snow was dry and crusty. Ten pairs of high steppers drawing sleighs that flew plumes and pennants passed Ninety-seventh street on the drive within fifteen minutes. In Central Park were scores of sleighing parties. Broadway and Fifth avenue were crowded with brisk strollers in the afternoon.

Snow Removal Big Task.

S. Gunther of the city's snow removal office at 500 Fifth avenue, summarized last night what had been accomplished last night what had been accomplished toward getting the principal streets into shape for the resumption of traffic. But Mr. Gunther made it plain that the removal job will be long and difficult unless rain or a jump in the temperature helps to melt the snow.

"Our main efforts in three boroughs, Manhattan. The Bronx and Brooklyn, were to clear the principal thoroughfares. We had at work in the daytime 10,100 men. Of these the contractors furnished 4.500 and we put on 2,800 regulars and

FILM INVASION STILL GROWS.

New York Theatre to Change Name

The New York Theatre, at Broadway and Forty-fifth etreet, has been surned over by William Morris to the Anglo-American Corporation and in the future will be devoted exclusively to motion pictures.

The theatre, which is housed in the same building as the Vitagraph, until last week called the Criterion Theatre, will be known as the New York Kimems. The building is owned by Klaw & Erlanger.

The Anglo-American company will open the theatre on February 23 with the French Film d'Art production of "The Three Musketeers." C. M. Robertson of Herbert, Robertson & Co. of 111 Broadway is president of the company. He is also director and treasurer of the American Film Company.

KEEP UP LIVING STANDARD.

So Urges Labor Secretary_Schiff Pleads for Immigrants.

The twenty-fifth annual .neeting of the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society was held yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of Public School 62, at Hester and Essex streets. Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, who said he had come to this country as an immigrant himself, added: "We have plenty of room for millions, but it is better they should not come if they are going to lower the standards of living which those here already possess."

to lower the standards of living which those here already possess."

Jacob H. Schiff said he did not agree with Mr. Wilson.

"We have no right to keep out healthy immigrants and say there are too many unemployed." he said.

Leon Sanders, president of the society, presided. Other speakers were Abram I. Elkus, the Rev. H. Masliansky and Henry M. Goldfogle.

Ex-DRUG FIEND ON CRUSADE.

Copper Mine Striker.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 15.—Arthur Davis, John Groff and James Cooper of New York, Waddell agency detectives, and Edwin Polkinghorne, a county deputy, were found guilty of manslaughter here to-day for the killing of Steve Putrich, one of two copper strikers killed at Seeberville on August 14 last. The jury was out thirty-two hours. Harry James, a deputy, also indicted, was found not guilty by order of Judge Flannagan, as it was shown that he did no shooting.

The reformed drug user has started a crusade for the reclamation of the slaves to this particular drug.

He was taken in charge by the police as a witness two months ago and was sent to the House of Petention. His addiction to cocaine had brought his weight down to 115 pounds. When he left was the complete on August 14 last. The jury was out thirty-two hours. Harry James, a deputy, also indicted, was found not guilty by order of Judge Flannagan, as it was shown that he did no shooting.

Appeal by the convicted men is not probable. Self defence was alleged. Sentence will be passed to-morrow.

Thomas Raleigh, the fourth Waddell detective charged with complicity in the killing, who jumped $10,000 bail and escaped, has not been captured.
